at 0400 on Saturday 22 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly dry with scattered showers. Rain Sunday afternoon.

Today:
Any residual rain from overnight clearing during the morning as cloud slowly moves eastwards, allowing for brighter skies in the afternoon. The odd shower is still possible for some. Much less windy and feeling less cold. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tonight:
A mostly clear start to the evening, with cloud building up from the west overnight. Isolated showers, occasionally heavy, are possible. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Sunday:
A slight increase of cloud and showers ahead of a band of rain, locally heavy, moving from the west. Likely to reach Cornwall by lunchtime and clear overnight. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday starting dry inland with coastal showers, locally heavy. Showers spread across the whole region through the day. Tuesday largely dry with scattered light showers, and Wednesday mostly dry.
